

Captain Dave Deputy

Captain Dave Deputy holds a USCG 50 ton master inland license with a sailing endorsement, and is a certified ASA instructor for the following courses:

- 201 Basic Keelboat
- 203 Coastal Cruising
- 204 Bareboat Chartering
- 205 Navigation

Captain Dave was introduced to sailing by his father-in-law, a lifelong Dutch sailor, in the Chesapeake Bay 40 years ago and has sailed ever since.

He has experience on both small and cruising type sailboats. As an owner of an O'Day Daysailer and Hobie Catamaran he has sailed in numerous local lakes and small bays since his introduction to sailing. Cruising boat experience includes charters in Grenada and the Caribbean as well as sailing in the Chesapeake Bay and the Atlantic on his Pacific Seacraft Crealock 34 "IslaSue" located in Annapolis. He is also a certified scuba diver.

His overriding sailing philosophy is that sailing should be fun, and it's an amazing way to relax, travel, and spend time with family.

Captain Dave is a retired CPA and CFO of mid-sized companies with a passion for sailing and now devoted full time to helping others achieve their sailing goals.
