

Captain Leslie Streit

Captain Leslie Streit has been sailing for over twenty years.

She is an American Sailing Association Instructor and is qualified to teach classes ASA101 Basic Keelboat Sailing, ASA103 Basic Coastal Cruising, and ASA104 Bareboat Cruising.

Caught up in the joy of sailing, she has demonstrated her devotion to the sport by teaching for the ASA as a instructor, charter captain for sunset sailing, and office manager of one of the largest sailing schools on the Jersey coast. She taught sailing to adults and children alike on Toms River, Gateway National Park (Sandy Hook, NJ) and Barnegat Bay. A lifelong learner, she continues to take classes to improve in the art of sailing.

Her experience with the ASA Flotilla offered in Florida prompted her to provide classes on Charlotte Harbor in Florida and making trips to Sanibel Island. Her experiences as crew were in the Gulf of Mexico and the British Virgin Islands.

A retired science teacher from Orange, NJ, she finds sailing compatible with everything she taught. Upon completion of a renovated 1881 farmhouse, her desire now is to teach sailing for Nockamixon Sailing School. Obviously, sailing is her passion.
